CHURCHES ARE ACTIVE.

Never in the history of Corsicana were the churches in better condition to carry forward their work than at present. During the past several months there have been added to the physical plants of at least two of the leading churches of the city, while two other leading churches have during the past few years completed magnificent new church buildings with departments for all other activities aside from the regular church services.
Included in the building program.

The physical properties of all of the churches in Corsicana are of a high standard, and there are strong ministers of the gospel at the head of each, save with one exception,
and it is expected that the vacancy in this pulpit will be filled soon, and the fact that an exceptionally strong minister recently left this church in excellent working condition, places it in good working order through the continued efforts of the prominent laymen and church officers in charge.

It is stated from reliable sources that each and every church in the city is well organized and looking forward to one of the very best years in their history. The finances of the churches are reported in good condition with pledges reported either secured or in process of being secured for all activities of the year. Harmony prevails and the various affiliated bodies are working and carrying on their part of the church work and in numerous instances also looking after charity work and missionary work at home and abroad.

There is a fellowship existing among the members of each denomination that is good to see and this fellowship also extends from one congregation to the other and great good is being done through the fellow christian feeling that exists on every side. Again it is stated that Corsicana churches are in better condition and in better position to carry on the work of the lowly Nazarene on earth than at any time in their history, probably, when taken as a unit.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

The ever present crime wave that has been bothering the larger cities of the Nation is now spreading out to the medium sized and smaller cities of the country and the suppression of crime and the enforcement of the law are now problems that face practically every community. Recently Dallas has been having something of a crime wave. There have been hold-ups, burglaries and killings in several instances, and the people are beginning to become more and more interested in the enforcement of the law and the meting out of just punishment to those guilty of crimes.

During the past several weeks
there has been a tendency on the part of Dallas juries to assess severe penalties against hijackers and bandits instead of giving the customary short sentence or a suspended sentence. In three cases of highway robbery there in less than one week ninety-nine year sentences in the penitentiary were metered out in each instance.

Under the caption of "Making Our Cities Safe For Us To Live In,"
the Dallas News of Monday, January 31, carried the following editorial:

"Today," said Newton Baker recently in Chicago, "instead of making the world safe for democracy, we must make our cities safe for ourselves to live in. To do this we need to organize public opinion in such a way as to overcome apathy for crime conditions and the manifest sympathy displayed for the criminal." It is perfectly sound.

But an enforcement wave isn't enough to prevent crime waves.
We need constant enforcement.
Ebb and high tide in enforcement
do not give the certainty of swift punishment which is the one best preventative of crime.

The notice that three hijacking cases had drawn ninety-nine year sentences undoubtedly did good in Dallas county. There was a lull in hijacking and some of us thought it was a surcease of satisfactory significance. But the hijacking isn't over with yet. We've had a recurrence. More life sentences in suitable cases and the restoration of a legitimate pardon policy at Austin will eventually reduce robbery with firearms to a minor standing in notable happenings hereabouts.

"Dallas is now safe to live in"
provided you neither carry tempting sums of money nor appear to.
It is time we put our attention to making of that qualified safety unqualified security. There must be no let up in the jury box or on the patrolman's beat."

INVEST IN CORSICANA

Get rich quick schemes are not confined to bogus oil stocks and kindred affairs. There is legiti-mate oil stock just as there is legitimate stock of other character.
A man man who is supposed to have more than ordinary ability,
one who has been successful in life,
will often laugh at those who invest a few hundred dollars in some wildcat oil game, and just because a slick tongued salesman comes along with a proposition offering something just as wild but with a strictly good name, the man who dodges the oil stock falls for the other. It just goes to prove that Barnum was right. The American people like to be fooled, and one lesson is rarely sufficient.

There are laws to protect the public from illegitimate securities but there is no law to prevent an enterprise selling stock in a company which is unlikely to succeed.
A good salesman, one who can picture that legitimate enterprise as possessed of qualities which preclude every possibility of failure, proves too much for the investor,
and away goes the money. There is no law against the ability to paint investments by well worded speeches in glowing colors.

There are few cities where there are not opportunities ever at hand for the investor, opportunities where there is far less uncertainty than those offered in other places.
When those opportunities loom up so large that they may compare with the description of the investment offered by the salesman from another city, there is in nine hundred and ninety-nine instances out of a thousand, that there are local investors who are ready and willing to finance it. Opportunities that are strictly gilt edge rarely have to be peddled. Where there is a chance element, of course, the wary beware, and then it is that capital must be found among those who are not looking for a gamble when an investment is to be made.

With so many investments in Corsicana, or at least with the opportunity for such great investments, it is passing strange that there are not more of them taken advantage of. Surely it is not necessary to go to look for investors and say to them that Corsicana needs capital and ability to take care of its real needs. Why not a little more recognition by the people of the city of the opportunities, and instead of sending money away to develop other cities, keep it at home.

If the groundhog is to be relied upon as a weather prophet people living in the rural districts of Navarro county may as well prepare themselves for another six weeks
of isolation on account of impossible roads. We wonder how much longer the voters of Navarro county are going to let the whims of a groundhog tie up rural traffic.

Watch the traffic lights and boulevard stop signs. In this way you make traffic safer and at the same time save money, for you will be called on to face the judge
the Dallas News of Monday, January 31, carried the following editorial:

Speaking of greased swimmers,
it never occurred to the old fashioned girl to stop off at the busness shop for a bathing suit.

Indications are that there will be much building in both the business and residential sections of Corsicana this year.

The early spring garden is now foremost in the dreams of the amateur agriculturist living in the city.

NEW GARAGE AND SERVICE STATION BE OPENED HERE

The Corsicana Motor Co. is the name of a new garage and service station that will open for business in the building adjoining the Royal Cafe Co. to the north. The building occupied by this new firm is the property of the Royal Coffee Co. and has been remodelled at an expense of several thousand dollars into a modern automobile service station. The proprietors of the new firm are W. C. Brown and L.
McCurry of Richmond, former owners of the Brown Motor Co. of that town, Mr. Brown being a former resident of Corsicana several years ago.

The new firm will do a general garage business and has three gasoline pumps in their service station,
together with other automobile equipment.

Fliers Still Moving.
By Associated Press.
Lima, Peru, Feb. 7. The four Pan-American good will airplanes
on a 26,000 mile flight around South America today took off at Pisco
in Southern Peru for Mendoza, whence the fliers will take a special train for La Paz, Bolivia.

The other day we unloaded what was probably the largest carload of wire that was ever brought to Corsicana.

Included in this shipment was wire for building chicken houses, hog pens and fencing in cattle and gardens. In fact, we now have wire suitable for every purpose.

On account of the enormous quantity bought, direct from the manufacturer, we can sell this wire at very low prices.

MRS. ANNIE MORGAN DIED HERE SATURDAY AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Annie Morgan of Caddo Mills, aged 56 years, died at the residence of her father, J. M.
Scarborough, 1006 West Sixth avenue, Saturday morning at 8:15 o'clock, following a lingering illness.

She is survived by her husband,
F. G. Morgan, Caddo Mills; 6 children: J. M. Scarborough, Corsicana; one brother, District Judge Hawkins Scarborough, Corsicana; three sisters, Miss Katie Scarborough, Messiah, Miss Hightower, and Mrs. Willie Briggs, all of Corsicana.

Mrs. Morgan was brought to the home of her father several months ago.

Funeral services for Mrs. Morgan will be held from the home of her father, Capt. J. M. Scarborough, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock with burial in Oakwood cemetery.

ANOTHER INSTANCE OF VALUE OF LIVING STRICTLY AT HOME

Mexia, Texas, Feb. 1. — Another chapter of "Profitable Backyards" was written by A. S. Johnson, driver of a handy wagon, who with 50 hens and one cow sold $47.92 from his back yard in one month.

The cost of producing the $47.92 worth of butter, milk, eggs and chickens for the market was $20 for the month, leaving more than 10 per cent profit, Mr. Johnson points out.

His grocery bill for the month was $22.20, he says, which means that his back yard more than paid
the grocery bill.

However, Mr. Johnson does not have to buy meat for he raised two hogs on what would otherwise be wasted at his household, and the two hogs have been killed and the meat stored for family use.

FORDS HAVING TOO MUCH FUN TO SELL BUSINESS FOR BILLION DOLLARS IN CASH

By Associated Press. New York, Feb. 5.—How Edsel Ford refused an offer of $1,000,000,000 for the Ford Motor Company because he and his father were "having too much fun" was revealed here today.

Stuart W. Webb, president of the Eastern Manufacturing Company, said that in 1924 he made the offer to the Fords on behalf of the New York Brokerage House of Hornblower and Weeks.

Webb said that Edsel Ford declined to consider an offer of $200,000,000 for a quarter interest in the Ford Company in 1923.

The next year, Webb said, he offered $1,000,000,000 in cash for Ford stock.

"What would I do with all that money," Edsel Ford asked.

"You have it now in a different form," Webb replied.

"We couldn't do that, we're having too much fun," said Edsel.

John W. Prentiss, senior partner of Hornblower and Weeks testified in Washington that his offer of a billion to Henry Ford had been declined.

The New York World says today reports are current in automobile circles that a motor combination rivaling the Ford Company and

MINISTER IS DEAD SON-IN-LAW FIGHTS FOR LIFE FRIDAY

By Associated Press.

Waco, Texas, Feb. 4.—William Lawler was fighting for his life today in a Waco sanitarium as a charge of murder was filed against him in connection with the death Thursday night of Rev. A. J. Motley, 43, his father-in-law.

Motley and Lawler were wounded in a shooting at the former's residence near Hubbard, when Lawler went to the Motley home to which Mrs. Lawler had gone as a result of the difficulties between the two families.

Rheumatism can't be rubbed away

Are you one of those unfortunate ones who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried most everything. Went to Hot Springs and finally I decided to try S.S.S. I took a course in a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I also had a breaking out on my hands for years that nothing would heal, but now this has disappeared, and I am sure that it was S.S.S. which removed the cause. I am now in perfect health and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S.S.S. is the best." Carl C. Campbell, 415 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause. S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

FACULTY ANNOUNCED FOR ROBERT E. LEE SCHOOL TO OPEN SOON

NEW BUILDING EXPECTED TO BE READY FOR OCCUPANCY IN WEEK OR MORE

The Robert E. Lee School, located at West Fourth avenue and Thirty-first street, is almost finished. At the present time the furniture is being installed and school authorities hope to be able to announce the opening of that school within the next week or ten days.

The assignment of teachers to the new building was announced Saturday by H. D. Fillers, superintendent of schools, as follows:

Miss Nettie Bonner, principal; Miss Ethel Inman, first grade; Miss Irene Taylor, second grade; Miss Margaret Roderick, music and other subjects; Miss Anna Lou Watson, arithmetic and writing. Miss Bonner will have charge of the English and physical education.

The Board of Education has set Twenty-fourth street as the dividing line between the Sam Houston School and the Robert E. Lee School. All children in the high first grade, high second grade, low and high third grades, low and high fourth grades, and low and high fifth grades will attend the Robert E. Lee School. All others living in this territory will continue to attend the schools to which they belong at the present time. In all probability a kindergarten room will be opened at the new school next year and probably additional work in the first five grades will be offered.

The exact date of the opening of this new school will be announced about the middle of next week.

Fight Again Opens On C. I. A. Regents

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Feb. 4.—Taking up its disagreement where it was left off Wednesday, the Senate Friday again postponed action on the bill by W. D. McFarlane of Graham to increase the number of members on the College of Industrial Arts board of regents from six to nine.

McFarlane insisted on action on the bill, opposed by Senator Eugene Miller of Garner, but a motion by J. H. Bailey of Cuero to refer the bill to the Educational Committee with instructions to report Wednesday was carried.

Should the bill pass without amendment Governor Moody would be empowered to appoint three additional members to the board and proponents argued he is entitled to this privilege. Miller, in talking against the bill, said addition of new members would only furnish opportunity for disgruntled persons to open an old fight which he said now practically is settled.

The Senate finally passed a bill by Floyd of Paris to increase the pay of county auditor in certain counties and another by Stuart of Fort Worth providing for appointment of juvenile officers in the larger counties of the State.

A bill by Holbrook of Galveston providing all written instruments would be held in contestable two years after their filing was defeated on the plea of Bailey of Cuero.

Kill Plumbers License. Austin, Texas, Feb. 4.—Prospects of taking Texas Master Plumbers $25 annually for license today were dealt a blow expected to prove fatal.

COTTON BELT HAS UNIQUE EXHIBIT AT THIS EXPOSITION

Special to the Sun.

Tyler, Texas, Feb. 5.—Among the three hundred booths at the Woman's National Exposition being held in St. Louis from January 29 to February 9, designed to exploit the accomplishments of women in every field of endeavor, is an attractive display of illuminated slides in the form of a large picture frame showing photographs of successful farm women along the Cotton Belt Route.

The illuminated pictures of these successful farm women display a diversified line of products, including cotton, rice, peaches, tomatoes, kaffir corn, potatoes, wheat, dairy and poultry.

The decorative scheme employed in the construction of the Cotton Belt booth is unusually colorful. California striped awnings supported on black spear point standards cover the top of the booth with blue draperies surrounding the frame, in the center of which is a large illuminated Cotton Belt emblem. A canopy of lavender and silver covers the ceiling of the Coliseum, and a feminine touch in the arrangement of the booths, as well as in displays exhibited at the Exposition is apparent.

WOMEN START ON CAMPAIGN TO EARN SOME EASY MONEY

OFFER FOR CHURCH AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS BEING TAKEN UP

The special subscription offer made to the women's organizations of the county by the Semi-Weekly Morning Light is meeting with a liberal response. Many letters have been received already announcing that there are now several organizations in the county making money for their activities by getting subscriptions to this popular county paper.

The plan to make money during this campaign is very simple, as all that the women have to do is to secure as many as twenty subscriptions to the Light at $1.00 a year in advance, and immediately upon receipt of same they will be given a check for $10.00, there being no limit to the number of subscriptions to be secured.

The women in Richland, Emhouse, Purdon, Emmett, Mildred and Navarro, have already advised that they will enter the campaign, and within the next few days there is no doubt but that many more communities will be heard from. The campaign will last until May 1st, and is along the same line as former campaigns in the spring time.

With such an easy plan the women will have the opportunity to make some ready money for their activities, which will come in very handy at this time of the year.

CORSICANA TO ASK FOR STATE SENATE OF PRAETORIAN ORDER

The following article appeared in the January issue of the Praetorian Guard, official publication of the Order of Praetorians, published at Dallas, will be read with interest here.

It is rumored, upon good authority, that Corsicana, Texas, through its Chamber of Commerce, will ask for the State Praetorian Senate which will be held in April 1931.

Praetorians who attended the State Senate meeting at Corsicana in 1915 have never gotten through talking about the splendid entertainment and reception Corsicana gave the gathering of this State Meeting.

Corsicana now has ample hotel facilities and has taken on much of the modern up-to-date city air, hence a more interesting place to meet in 1931 than in 1915.

Before the State Senate convenes there will no doubt be a number of cities contending for this honor.

The meeting of the Praetorian State Senate which was held in Corsicana in 1915 was one of the most successful from every standpoint ever held in Texas. With the recent securing of the services of C. N. Olsen as district manager, with headquarters in Corsicana, will lend an impetus to the order and aid materially in securing the State meeting for this city.

The State meetings of the Praetorians always attract a large number of leading men of the State and every effort will no doubt be made to land this meeting.

How to read Percentages

Were Dodge Brothers to sell 100 motor cars one year and 200 motor cars the next, they could truthfully announce that their sales had increased 100% in a single year. Yet they would only have sold 300 motor cars in all.

In other words, PERCENTAGE of annual gain is not conclusive. The NUMBER of cars sold is the true test.

That Dodge Brothers sales in 1926 showed an increase of 27.6% over 1925 is not the MAJOR fact to consider—striking as it is.

But that Dodge Brothers sold 259,967 cars in 1925, and then in 1926 sold 331,764—a gain of 71,797 sales in twelve months—tells a story of growth that stands out like a tower on the skyline of the industry.

Three hundred and thirty-one thousand buyers LAST year! Many more vital improvements added THIS year! No increase in price! Three powerful arguments for earnestly investigating this smart and sturdy product before deciding what to buy!

FOODSTUFFS EXPERT TALKS ON EXPORT OF CERTAIN COMMODITIES

E. G. MONTGOMERY GIVES IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO FARMERS AND OTHERS

Following is the main features of addresses delivered by E. G. Montgomery, chief of the Foodstuffs Division of the United States Department of Commerce, on the development of export trade in agricultural products before the Houston Trade Conference at Houston January 11 and Dallas on January 13.

The development of export trade in agricultural products depends primarily upon a surplus production of commodities at a price that can compete in the world market.

The export of agricultural products is usually based on the exploitation of new and cheap lands. In a large degree, Texas exports of agricultural products, and are based largely on the agricultural development of the four states, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, and Arkansas.

Manufacturing will undoubtedly develop a surplus in Texas, as the state has large resources and cheap fuel, good transportation and port facilities, and also a considerable domestic demand for some manufactured products.

In the export of staple products such as foodstuffs, feedstuffs and cotton, world trade is developing largely on the basis of price. In this it differs in a marked degree from the sale of manufactured products where a question of quality or special uses is often a larger factor than price. For example, in wheat which moves freely in international trade at all times, Argentina or Canada can underbid the United States for a bushel of wheat in European ports for the same grade or quality of wheat they are likely to get the contract.

Texas exports of wheat depend to a large degree on a large crop of good quality in the winter wheat territory extending as far north as Nebraska. To a large extent the same argument applies to flour, cotton, cottonseed oil or cake.

Therefore, the export trade of Texas in these products depends very largely on good crops and low cost of production in the territory which naturally moves its products through Texas ports.

Trade promotion in these standard products is also a very different merchandising problem than the case of highly manufactured goods, such as automobiles or typewriters. Merchandising wheat or flour is largely a question of offering favorable prices in competition with other producing sections. The quality of the product and its uses are so well known that there is little to say on these questions.

However, since the export of food products does depend so much on crop conditions there is a constant shift in the surplus areas, and in this respect it also differs markedly from manufactured products. For example, shoes, cotton goods, steel, machine tools, and other manufactured products move year after year from practically the same centers of production. By contrast, we may one year be exporting a large volume of wheat and flour from the Kansas-Oklahoma territory and another year, due to short crops in that territory, the trade may shift largely to the Great Lakes region or the Pacific Northwest. This has the effect of bringing into the export trade in agricultural products a large number of new flour mills, cotton oil mills, and other processing plants based on agricultural products, from year to year. Men that have been out of the market for a year or two suddenly find that they have large crops of good quality in their vicinity and can meet export quotations, and there is an immediate demand for information as to the foreign market. This shifting of the area of export trade in food products offers a special opportunity to the Department of Commerce to be of practical service, as there are each year a great number of men who for two or three years have been out of the export market, or in many cases have never sold in foreign trade, but find themselves in a position to make offers. They naturally want to get at once all information they can get of a statistical nature on the trends of trade, any changes which have taken place in tariffs or trade regulations in important countries to which they may wish to export, and, in fact, there is a general demand for information of various kinds which the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce is in a position to supply.

Naturally, the business of carrying on foreign trade must be done largely by the people who have the goods to sell. However, there are certain functions which an agency such as the Department of Commerce can perform better than any private business, and in fact many of the functions would be impossible for the ordinary manufacturer to undertake. For example, there are about 128 countries which publish statistics on foreign trade. To keep complete information as to the imports and exports of these countries would be a task that only a very large government agency could undertake. The fact that such information is always available in Washington makes it unnecessary for even the largest companies to attempt to collect such statistical information. Keeping on hand information as to the changes in Pure Food laws and other trade restrictions which are constantly being made in all foreign countries would be a very difficult task for any private company that did not itself have a world-wide organization. Again, this is a particular function that a government agency with offices in all important countries of the world can properly undertake to keep in hand, and the information is always available on comparatively short notice.

Also, at this point, the government can often render aid through intercession. When new Pure Food laws are under consideration in a foreign country or regulations are being promulgated it is highly important that these regulations are of such a nature that they do not handicap American exports, or, for example, such regulations as the sulphur content of dried fruit, restrictions on the use of preservatives such as boracic acid in canned goods, or the fat content of condensed milk. If a foreign country puts in operation regulations which are different from our ordinary American standards, it makes it very difficult for the exporter, as a rule to meet the new conditions. Very often by intercession by a government agency it is possible to get the regulations modified or changed to conform with our commercial standards.

New legal regulations are also being passed by foreign countries which are often a handicap to trade and in these cases the government can frequently be of great assistance in a ding the exporter to maintaining out his affairs. Another feature on which foodstuffs exporters often need information, due to the fact that the surplus areas change frequently and a large number of new men are entering export trade each year, are such matters as transportation facilities, port facilities, and warehouse facilities in foreign countries. Foodstuffs being semi-perishable in nature, and some of them highly perishable, it is very important to have good transportation and good warehouse facilities and to be sure that the product is handled properly and expeditiously when it enters a foreign port.

The above outline states briefly some of the functions of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce and the manner in which it can "put in an ear" at various times in co-operation with the organized export trade of the country in facilitating and aiding in the promotion of trade.

Card of Thanks.
We have not been unmindful in our sorrow of the loving kindness without number on the part of our kind neighbors and friends during the illness and death of our beloved father and subsequent illness of our devoted mother, and since we cannot thank each individual personally as we would so much like to, we take this method of expressing our unbounded gratitude to all those who gave so generously and untiringly of their time and services in our hour of need and sorrow.

We are grateful, too, beyond the capacity of mere words to express, for the beautiful floral offerings, those silent tributes of esteem and respect, and the kindly words of sympathy from those understanding hearts in the dark and trying hour. God bless you for them.

And to even attempt to convey to you our sincere thanks as we feel them seems but a futile gesture, and we desire once more to re-assure you of our love and appreciation for all said and done when our hearts were heavy-laden.

May God, in His great love and tender mercy, watch over and bless you throughout the coming years. We are your prayer.

POTATO EXPERT IS MAIN SPEAKER HERE SATURDAY MEETING

POTATO GROWING RECORD HELD BY CORSICANA MAN, IT WAS STATED

Fifty-five bushels of Irish potatoes from one bushel of seed potatoes is a State record, for any State, yet that is just what Corsicana has raised, stated M. S. Stenehjem, a representative of the Northwest Potato Growers' Exchange, Incorporated, of Williston, North Dakota, Saturday at the monthly Navarro County Poultry Association meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce building.

Due to the bad condition of the roads which prevented a great number of farmers from being present who are interested in poultry, the discussions on poultry was postponed until the next meeting which will be the first Saturday in March.

Mr. Stenehjem was introduced by J. L. Hubbert and was the principal speaker of the meeting. Mr. Stenehjem stated that although Texas climatic conditions differed considerably from that of North Dakota, Texas can raise just as good potatoes as any other State and gave the above figures as proof. That one bushel of seed potatoes was planted by Tony Ruffo here in the city limits. He planted early and they produced early and brought a pound.

To prevent buying this kind of seed potatoes, Mr. Stenehjem said, if people would buy certified seed that will not have over 5 per cent Mosiac disease. He stated that in buying seed, a person could get good seed by picking out potatoes with a square, blunt face, commonly known to potato men as the bull dog face. In bringing his remarks to a close, he said that a car of certified seed potatoes was in Corsicana and advised potato growers to buy these kind if they wanted to get results.

Judson J. Sibos and Miss Mary Trimble of the Royal Coffee Company were present and at the close of the meeting served Royal's King of the Cup coffee with doughnuts. This was a very fitting close for the occasion, due to the rainy and dismal weather. Many compliments were passed on the coffee.

LONG FIGHT MADE TO PRESERVE ALAMO ENDS SUCCESSFULLY

MISS ADINS DEZAVALA SUCCESSFUL IN SAVING ALAMO GROUNDS

By the Associated Press.
San Antonio, Texas, Feb. 7.—With the approval by Governor Moody of the bill authorizing purchase of part of the old Alamo site as a park the long fight of Miss Adina DeZavala and the DeZavala Chapter of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas to preserve the "Thermopolis of Texas" has ended successfully.

The bill passed by the legislature and signed by the governor will recover all of the property that formerly was the Alamo fort and the church of San Juan deValera, that is now recoverable. The property, to be purchased is a small plot south of the church of the Alamo, now occupied by an auto rent system, a garage and a parking station. The plot is small, but very valuable as it is not only near the center of historical interest of the state, but also near the business center of the city where land sells by the front foot.

The Alamo once was a large enclosure of which the church and remains of the barrack room now standing were a small part of the rear wall. The battle of the Alamo, Santa Anna's soldiers burned and tore down a large part of the structure. The postoffice on the north stands on a part of the enclosure and business building on the west stand upon the place once occupied by the front walls of the fort. The Alamo plaza, as it is today, is really what is left of the Patio of the old fort.

Early in this century Miss Adina DeZavala and the DeZavala Chapter obtained the remains of the Alamo, but were forced to fight for years to prevent commercial interests from tearing down the ruin so that their property east of the Alamo would front on Alamo plaza. At one time the fight became so intense that the old barrack room was invaded and the colonnaded second story torn down, leaving the arched first story without a roof. The chapter succeeded, however, in saving the walls and with the creation of a park can cease its vigilance with the knowledge that the shrine will remain undisturbed.

What Does Optometry Embrace?

The anatomy, pathology and physiology of the eye. Its extreme liability to abnormalities. The means by which they may be corrected. The detection of all errors of vision and their correction without the use of drugs. Also the preparation of the necessary lenses and their adjustment to the features of the patient. It would appear that Optometry occupies an important relation to public welfare? Yes it is fully as important as any other profession.

FOUR CARLOADS OF PECANS SHIPPED OUT KERENS THIS YEAR

At the close of this season's pecan crop, a report has reached the Tribune office through local pecan buyers that approximately $12,000 has been realized by the people in this vicinity who have gathered from native trees enough pecans to load four freight cars. The average load is 30,000 pounds, bringing the total number of pounds up to 120,000. The pecans were purchased at an average of 10 cents per pound, or a total of $12,000.

This is the first time in a number of years that Kerens has known a pecan crop of this size. The money derived from the sale of this native nut, which was distributed among the many families of this section, has been of much help to Eastern Navarro county. Many pounds of pecans have been consumed at home, which would have enlarged the above figure.—Kerens Tribune.

For Long Life Drink More Coffee

Report of Prof. William H. Ukers T. and C. T. New York City, shows the average life of seventeen of the leading coffee men of the United States to be seventy-eight years and eight months of age. The youngest at time of death was sixty-nine years old and the oldest was ninety-one. This also disproves the theory that coffee is harmful but on the other hand proves that it is healthful.

We will not guarantee that you will live as long as the above mentioned men, but we will guarantee that you will enjoy each and every cup of coffee made from "Royall's King of the Cup." None better at any price. Call for it at your grocer; he handles it. In Blue and Gold Seal Tight cans.

Yours for better coffee,

MORE LIBERAL LIBEL LAWS DESIRED BY TEXAS CITIZENS NOT IN NEWSPAPER BUSINESS

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Feb. 4.—The libel laws pending in the Texas Legislature were initiated by citizens not engaged in the newspaper business who perceived the necessity of amending the existing law in certain particulars in order that the press may adequately inform the people of the affairs of their government and of other matters of public concern, said Mr. Finty, Jr., of Dallas, in addressing the Texas Press Association at its Midwinter meeting in Austin today.

Mr. Finty said that the bill, if enacted, will not accord any greater privileges to the newspapers for comment or criticism of their own production, but simply will protect them in the publication of true and impartial reports of the speeches in public meetings dealing with public affairs. He said in part:

"Newspaper publishers ought not to be the sole guardians of the liberty of the press; they are the guarantors of such liberty were not written into our constitution for the benefit of the press, but instead for the benefit of the public. And fortunately it is not true that the publishers are the sole guardians. The bill now pending in the Texas Legislature was initiated by citizens who are not publishers because they perceived that the people were not receiving adequate information as to their government and other matters.

"The publishers of this state generally believe that they ought to be held responsible for the abuse of the liberty of the press; they believe in libel laws; they feel it just that they should pay for any damages that they cause, even through accident or error. But they also believe that the scope of their privilege should be made clear and that they should have opportunity to present all pertinent facts to the jury in every libel case.

"The bill before the Legislature would amend the existing law in two particulars.

"Article 5431 now declares the truth to be a defense to an action for libel. It further declares that the defendant, when specially pleaded, in mitigation of exemplary or punitive damages, may give in evidence any public apology, correction or retraction and the circumstances and intentions under which the publication was made. This last named provision serves the publisher well in cases in which he cannot plead the truth, provided he is sued for exemplary or punitive damages. In such situation, he can get all pertinent evidence before the jury. But if he is sued for actual damages only, he can present nothing. In such cases, the jury is charged that the publication is libelous and is instructed to find damages in such sum as it may deem appropriate. Naturally the defendant's side, infers that the libel was not libelous, and damages which really are punitive.

"The pending bill would enlarge this provision so as to afford the defendant opportunity to give in evidence in every libel suit apologies, retractions, corrections and the circumstances, so that juries may have something whereby to measure the damages.

"Article 5432, applying to newspapers and periodicals only, declares that certain matters are privileged and not actionable. These are judicial, executive and legislative proceedings, the proceedings of public meetings and reasonable and fair comment and criticism. The pending bill would amend the subsection relating to public meetings. This subsection, as enacted in 1901, reads as follows:

"A fair, true and impartial account of a public meeting organized and conducted for public purposes only.

"This privilege was added to the others that were in existence because of the belief that the people needed to be informed not only of official proceedings, but also of the proceedings of public meetings dealing with government and other matters of public concern, such as mass meetings, political conventions, etc.; which have to do with the shaping of the policies of the government, with legislation and the selection of public officers.

"A decision of the courts construing this provision has left it in grave doubt that a newspaper has privilege to report such meetings. The pending bill therefore would amend the subsection so as expressly to declare the privilege. It is essential that this amendment shall be enacted if newspapers are to perform the public service expected of them by the people, who wish to be informed of the affairs of their government and of the candidates for public office.

"Fear Is Quelled

Some good men have expressed a fear that if the law shall be so amended reckless speeches will be made in public meetings and that these will be published as fact and conditions will be made worse. But their fears have been quieted when they have learned the facts. It is not left to speculation as to what the effect of the proposed legislation would be. The amendment simply would declare that the law in respect to public meetings is what the legislature of 1901 meant it to be. In the twenty-one years next following the enactment, newspaper publishers acted in the belief that they were privileged to report public meetings. They did not report such meetings. The effect was not to encourage reckless speaking in public meetings but just the reverse. Men who went upon the platform realized that if they spoke recklessly or falsely, they would be reported in the public press, and those who had been unjustly assailed, would answer in the same manner. It also realized that the campaign falsifier always gets the worst of it when the press is free.

The proposed amendment simply would restore the law to the condition existing prior to 1922, and there is every reason to believe that it would have the effect, as before, to make public discussion cleaner and more deliberate.

"The newspaper publishers hope that both of these amendments will be adopted. But they join in the belief of the citizens who inspired the writing of the bills, that the people need this legislation more than do the newspapers. The newspapers can exist and prosper without adequately informing the public. Under such a condition, the public will suffer most. The newspapers will adequately serve the public if permitted to do so without violating the law."

Houston, Texas, Feb. 7.—When humans are tattooed they apparently wish to satisfy a certain vanity. When a hog is tattooed he is compelled to submit that he may be identified.

To those who do not have a close acquaintance with a hog, it may appear to be a curious illustration of the utilitarian purpose to which a more or less common means of human self expression is put. It has, however, filtered down to H. H. Schultz, government statistician here, and has the stamp of government authority.

Mr. Schultz's ordinary job is gathering data about livestock and crops and interpreting it for the world at large. Once in a while his mail brings suggestions which might be regarded as novel by those who are inclined to shun reading livestock notes.

Apparently the process of tattooing a hog is not as simple as it may seem.

"Studies of tattooing methods," his advice dryly recite "for better identification of hogs, recently made by Dr. James Fleming, head of the Bureau of Animal Industry at Kansas City, and R. L. Cuff, livestock Exchange, have resulted in finding an entirely successful and harmless ink and the perfection of a simple device that injects the ink into the skin by a light stroke on the back of the hog."

Obviously the ink hitherto has not agreed with the hog. Moreover, there has been some difficulty in inducing the hog to take kindly to being tattooed. Both obstacles seem to have been successfully surmounted.

"Tattooing," the advice say in sketching its purpose, "is of great value in tracing accented areas hogs showing tuberculosis lesions and many markets are asking to be supplied with the easy and complete method."

To a method, the item doubtless will have considerable value. To the consumer of hog products it, at least, will be informative.

By Associated Press.
Washington, Feb. 4.—Appointment of William Phillips as the first American Minister to Canada was formally announced today at the State Department, coupled with an official confirmation of the selection of Frederick A. Sterling to be Minister to Dublin, and Robert Wood Bliss, to be Ambassador to Argentina.

Mr. Phillips, a former under-secretary of state, now is ambassador to Belgium, and his assignment to Canada with the lower rank of Minister is in recognition of the importance of the new post.

Mr. Bliss, now Minister to Sweden, will be promoted one grade when he takes the ambassadorship to Argentina in succession to Peter Augustus Jay, who has resigned. Mr. Sterling now is counselor of the American Embassy in London.

In a statement explaining Mr. Phillips' willingness to surrender his ambassadorship to be come Minister in Ottawa, the State Department said it was because he realized "the importance of the position and the great further service he can render to his government."

"Only a very able man could safely have been trusted to open up a new field like that of our mission in Canada," the statement said.

"Only the best among the servants of this government was suited to undertake the work, because of relations with Canada are of vital importance to both countries.

"We hold many ideas in common; many problems are common to both. On the friendly and orderly solution of those problems depends the continued growth of that good feeling which is one of the outstanding features of the policy of neighboring nations to continue unbroken the traditions of peace."

Houston, Texas, Feb. 4.—Dr. Charles E. Lyon, United States finance commissioner at London, England, for the past three years, ready to give business men the benefit of his experience as it is related to exports and imports.

Announcement of the impending visit was made by Ernest L. Tutt, Houston, manager of the district office of the United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. Mr. Tutt's announcement said Dr. Lyon would be in Houston February 7, in Dallas the next day and in Galveston February 9. He is coming at Mr. Tutt's request.

London is the hub of the financial life of Europe," Mr. Tutt said, "and offers a very splendid opportunity for the keen student and close observer, such as Dr. Lyon, to really become intimately acquainted with European financial happenings. He has specialized on financial matters and is particularly well equipped to discuss European financial conditions, both public and private, with business men and bankers."

On his Houston visit Dr. Lyon plans to address the Advertising club. At Dallas interviews may be arranged through the Dallas chamber of commerce and at Houston and Galveston through the district bureau offices.

Dr. Lyon is on an itinerary covering 24 important commercial centers by Texas, with the single exception of New York, is the only state where he will visit three cities. He is the fifth returning foreign representative of the bureau to come to Texas since establishment of the Galveston and Houston bureaus from Mexico City, Santiago, Chile; Berlin and Buenos Aires.

If sufficient interest is shown in the visits of these foreign trade experts by Texas business men, Mr. Tutt said, "it will be possible to have most of the returning foreign representatives in the future come to Texas."

Washington, Feb. 4.—The Senate today went on record for the use of the treasury surplus for reducing the public debt rather than for tax reduction.

A resolution making such a demonstration offered by Senator Norris, Republican, of Nebraska, was adopted as a substitute for one by Senator Harrison, Democrat, of Mississippi, which would have declared for a tax reduction at the present session.

The Democratic organization opposed the Norris resolution solidly with one exception, and the Republican organization, aided by all of the Republican insurgents, supported it.

The vote was 46 to 33.

For the first time in years on a political question, the Republican insurgents lined solidly with the Republican regulars. There was but one break in the Democratic ranks, Senator Blaise, of South Carolina, supporting the Norris resolution.

CHARGES FOUND TO BE JUSTIFIED BY HOUSE COMMITTEE

Hearing that Dale offered for $1,000 to "fix things" for an unfavorable report on the optometry bill which would have taxed stationary optometrists $50 annually as itinerant optometrists are taxed new.

He said Moore, author of the bill, referred him to Dale, and that Moore was with them last Wednesday night when final details of the alleged transaction were worked out in Moore's hotel room.

Money Taken Off Dale.

Ranger Captains Frank Hamer and Tom Hightower, forewarned by Chamberlain, told of arresting Dale near the hotel alley, and taking from him $1,000 in marked bills which Chamberlain had just handed him shortly after they left Moore's room.

Dale, on the stand, claimed that the money was "forced" on him as a fee by Chamberlain, whom Dale said expressed fear of House contempt action on account of lobbying activities, including assessment of optometry association members $15 each for lobbying expenses.

Moore said he knew nothing of the alleged transaction and that no reference was made to it when the three dined together in his room shortly before the arrest.

The House this afternoon accepted an amendment by the investigation committee to make the latter's report read so that whatever action the House takes will apply separately to Dale and Moore. The findings as applied to Dale will be considered first. Debate then began on whether the report and testimony should be printed and action delayed.

Representative A. E. Nabors of Hamilton was ruled out of order when he declared that "the committee report falls short of its duty in not naming a third guilty party."

Speaker Bobbitt ruled that the House could discuss at the time only whether it would accept the committee amendment separating Dale's and Moore's cases.

Nabors declared that the report "has failed to take cognizance of the fact that there is a lobbyist involved who is here debauching legislators."

Grand Jury Ordered Probe Bribery Charge

By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, Feb. 7.—Bribery charges against Representatives F. A. Dale and H. H. Moore of the Fortieth Legislature were referred directly to the Travis county grand jury today when Judge James R. Hamilton charged the body to make thorough inquiry, declaring that "there is no greater menace to good government than bribery."

Meanwhile the House committee of nine, which closed its hearing into the charges Saturday, began reviewing the testimony it had heard. It may report to the Legislature today.

At this hearing both Dale and Moore denied charges of Willis Chamberlain of Houston. Chamberlain said he gave Dale $1,000 to work against Moore's optometrist license bill and declared that Moore was "in" on the deal. Moore asserted he knew nothing about the transaction and Dale said the $1,000 was "forced" on him as a retainer fee.

Judge Hamilton told the jurors today that if they found evidence of guilt, it "would be a dereliction of duty not to return indictments."

SECRETARY KELLOGG SENDS ANOTHER NOTE TO WARRING CHINESE

STATES GOVERNMENT VITALLY CONCERNED OVER PRESENT SITUATION

By Associated Press.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Not only the interests of 30,000 foreigners including 4,000 Americans, but those of the Chinese people in general require that "order shall prevail" in Shanghai, Secretary Kellogg has informed the military leaders in China's warfare in proposing that the international settlement of the great port be excluded from the fighting zone.

He emphasized this point in the second open invitation to be transmitted by the United States to the war lords of the North and South in China since the internecine strife in that country recently became the subject of international concern.

The proposal, the text of which was made public last night here, asserted the fate of American interests in Shanghai "is the occasion of great anxiety to the American government" and suggested that the international settlement be neutralized in the present struggle so that "American citizens and other foreigners may receive adequate protection."

It was added that the American government "will be ready to become a party to friendly and orderly negotiations properly instituted and conducted regarding the future status of the settlement."

Believed Soviets Threaten.

By Associated Press.

Peking, Feb. 7.—Marshal Chang Tso-Lin's chief of staff and right hand man, Yang Tun-Ting, has telegraphed insistently from Mukder urging his chief to return there immediately.

One reason for his action is believed to be persistent reports of Soviet troop concentrations on the Manchurian frontier. Reports of such troop movements have reached Peking from numerous sources since a recent Warsaw dispatch stating that Russian soldiers were marching toward Kalgan China, was discredited, owing to the virtual impossibility of crossing the Gobi desert in mid-winter.

SATURDAY'S RAIN

Just when roads were being put back in good shape after an impassable period, rain Saturday and Sunday, falling generally over the county, made the roads in most places in this immediate section quite heavy. It was announced by the Highway Bureau at the Chamber of Commerce Monday.

The highway north to Ennis is passable without difficulty, although slippery for a short stretch north of Ennis. It was understood that some traffic was getting through Palmer but that most of the Dallas traffic was taking the long way round by Waxahachie. Traffic was going through to Fort Worth without interruption.

The creek was reported out of banks on the Mexia road early Monday morning. This route, as well as the one to Waco, were reported impassable.

Kerens reported that traffic was getting through without serious difficulty on the road east.

The highway west through Barry and Blooming Grove was reported very heavy in the dirt stretches. I. C. Davis, county maintenance foreman, had to rescue two motor maintainers near Barry from the mud by using mules.

A local citizen, who went to Jackson Mississippi, in a card received by the Chamber of Commerce Monday, says that roads were splendid from Chandler, Texas, east.

AGRICULTURAL OUTLOOK FOR YEAR ABOUT THAT OF PAST YEARS ACCORDING REPORT

Special to the Sun.
Houston, Texas, Feb. 4.—A favorable year for livestock producers is in prospect for 1927 but with an average season a continuation of relatively low returns from most cash crops is probable unless acreages are reduced, according to the annual Agricultural Outlook report for 1927 issued by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

A summary of the report follows: Domestic demand for farm products of the 1927-28 season is not likely to be materially different from the present.

Some improvement in the purchasing power of foreign countries for agricultural products of 1927 may be expected, but it is probable that larger foreign production of breadstuffs, fruits and animal products will reduce foreign demand for our exportable surpluses of these products.

A slightly larger supply of farm labor will probably be available in regions adjacent to industrial centers and wages may be lower. No material changes in the price of farm machinery and building materials may be expected. Wholesale prices of fertilizer are lower than last year.

Cotton production must be curtailed drastically the coming season to restore the balance between consumption and supply at remunerative prices to growers. With average yields a reduction of about 30 per cent in acreage appears necessary to give growers the best gross returns for the 1927 crop. The chances for profitable production will be best if the acreage is small, costs held to a minimum, and efforts are made to improve the quality of the crop.

Hard spring and durum wheat growers can scarcely expect to receive returns for the 1927 crop similar to those which have prevailed for the 1926 crop, especially if production should be materially increased.

The too rapid expansion of rice acreage has resulted in a production in excess of demand at satisfactory prices. Some reduction in acreage rather than further increase appears advisable.

The demand for the 1927 corn crop is expected to be little if any greater than for the 1926 crop. With probable increases of corn acreage in the South and with no probability of increased demand for corn in 1927, corn growers are faced with the prospect of lower prices unless acreage is substantially reduced.

Oats and barley for feed are unlikely to be in greater demand during the coming year as compared with 1926. The market value will be determined largely by the supply of these and other feed grains.

Hay required for stock is not likely to be increased because the number of hay-consuming animals continues to decrease.

Unless livestock production is held at about the present level, allowing for increase in population from year to year, present prices cannot be maintained. With beef cattle marketing in 1927 probably materially less than in 1926, and the demand for beef maintained, prices of slaughter and feeder cattle are expected to average somewhat higher than in 1926. On the whole, cattle prices are expected to continue the upward price swing begun in 1922.

Hog producers have a favorable outlook this year. The market supply of hogs probably will be little if any larger than in 1926, and domestic demand is expected to continue strong. Hog prices are likely to be maintained near the 1926 level. Prices now prevailing can be continued through 1928 only if farmers hold down hog production to the level of the past two years.

Sheep production is expected to continue to increase moderately, and lamb supplies this year may be slightly larger than in 1926. Strong consumptive demand for lamb is expected, but feeder demand may be less active than last year in some sections. The wool market appears firm, with no market price changes in sight.

The present situation in the mohair market does not warrant further expansion of production at the present time.

The dairy industry is on a stronger basis than a year ago. Dairy-men are likely to have a moderately favorable spread between the price of food and the price of dairy products. Egg and poultry producers in most sections of the country may expect a fairly satisfactory year, although perhaps not so profitable as 1926. A moderate increase in egg production and no decrease in poultry marketing is expected.

Horses and mules are in sufficient supply to meet farmers' needs the coming season, but the number of young stock is only large enough to replace about half the number of work stock now on farms. Farmers cannot expect to replace their work stock three to ten years from now at the low level of present day horse prices.

Potato growers should guard against the danger of overplanting and keep close watch on acreages being planted in competing states. Sweet potato acreage should be increased only by growers who need the increased supply for their own use, who can dispose of the crop on

THOUSAND GALLONS ALCOHOL AND MUCH WHISKEY CAPTURED

By Associated Press.
San Antonio, Texas, Feb. 5.—Seizing a carload of cabbage billed for Fort Worth, mounted customs inspectors in Laredo Saturday found 1,000 gallons of grain alcohol and twenty-eight cases of whiskey concealed beneath the vegetables, according to telegraphic advices reaching Collector of Customs Ed Cotulla of San Antonio.

One man was arrested when he secured the bill of lading for the liquor. The liquor was smuggled across the Rio Grande at night Mr. Cotulla said, after which it was buried beneath the cabbages. The freight car, which had been on a side track in the Laredo freight yards for several days, had been under observation of customs officers for some time, it was reported.

It was stated, however, that officers feared they might lose trace of it before it reached its destination, so made the arrest in Laredo. The alcohol was contained in five gallon cans, two of which were in each of 100 cases.

Fort Worth Man Held.
By Associated Press.
Laredo, Texas, Feb. 5.—Customs officers here located a car billed as cabbage in the local railroad yards at Laredo last night, containing a shipment of alcohol consigned to Fort Worth.

The Laredo Times today will say: E. M. Stevens, real estate man of Fort Worth has been arrested here and is charged with possession of the car's bill of lading.

The liquor is believed to have been smuggled across the Rio Grande last night and loaded in the car which was to have been shipped today.

Stevens at an examining hearing at noon, was released under bond of $2,000, on charge of transporting liquor. The case is to be brought up before the Webb county grand jury March 21, according to District Attorney Vails.

LOCATIONS BEING MADE RAPIDLY IN KENT-HARDY SECTOR

With one deep test and another shallow well location made near the Kent-Hardy shallow field, it looks as though this vicinity is in for a thorough exploration. The Magnolia Petroleum Company has three tracts in that district covering a total of 300 acres and has made a location on each tract.

The largest tract being the King farm, where the deep test will be made, covers 180 acres. It was not learned whether this well would be a test for the Trinity sand or the Woodbine sand. A location has been made for another shallow well on the Stout tract which covers 80 acres. It is thought that the well will be drilled to the 1,700 foot producing section where Garland Kent has brought in ten shallow producing wells from the same depth. The other Magnolia holding is the Hardy twenty acre tract south of the Stout tract. Kent Hardy lease. A derrick is now under construction on this small lease and probably will be spudded in by the first of next week. Construction of derricks on the other two locations are expected to start within the next few days.

The Magnolia McPherson No. 1, about three miles east of Rice has been making slow progress recently, but is still drilling and Friday morning had reached a depth of 2,790 feet in shale. The well is in the northeast corner of a 1,000 acre tract.

Sun Company Swink C-1, in the Richland field was still drilling Friday morning and was at the depth of 5,220 feet in sandy lime. The Trinity sand which is thought will be found within the next 200 feet will determine whether Corsicana shall be blessed with another deep field boom now, so geologists say.

The Texas Company Cheney B-1, south of the Powell field, was making good progress Friday morning drilling at 2,909 in shale. The Texas Company Pruitt No. 1, shallow well between Cryer Creek and Embouse was still in the chalk and drilling at 762 feet.

Two derricks are on new locations on the Kent Hardy lease on the Kerens road east of town and the wells are expected to be spudded in by Monday. It was learned from Garland Kent, Friday morning, that these wells will be Nos. 11, and 12, both offsets to well No. 9, which was still flowing Friday morning around 400 barrels a day. The Hardy 11 will be 300 feet east of No. 9, while No. 12 will be approximately 200 yards north of No. 9. The derrick on No. 9 was skidded over to drill No. 12. A new derrick was built by Charlie Kessinger for No. 11, and rigging up is now under way.

The derrick on the T. G. Towns No. 1, across the road north of the Kent Hardy No. 11, by Tip DeArman, contractor and builder, has been completed and rigging up is under way there. The well will be spudded in about Monday. This tract is owned by T. G. Towns and got W. J. Towns, as stated in a recent issue of the Daily Sun. A map, evidently an old one, shows that the land belongs to T. J. Towns and is a 112 acre tract.

TEXAS LONGHORN WILL BE SAVED FROM EXTINCTION

By Associated Press.
Washington, Feb. 4.—The few remaining specimens of the long-horned, or Spanish breed of cattle, once numerous in the Southwest, are to be preserved from complete extinction.

The forest service will purchase a herd of the animals, picturesque examples of early Southwestern pioneer life, for the benefit and education of future generations and maintain them on the Wichita National Forest in Oklahoma.

A bill recently signed by President Coolidge contained provision for that purpose.

GOVERNOR HOLDS JURY FOUND MAN BE SANE DURING TRIAL

By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, Feb. 5.—Governor Moody Saturday revoked a conditional pardon former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson granted Gratton Davenport, convicted of murder in Tom Green county and sentenced to life.

Mrs. Ferguson issued Davenport a conditional pardon January 5 on condition he be remanded to a state private institution for the insane.

Moody set out in the proclamation that the terms of the pardon have not been complied with, as Davenport is still in jail and has never been sent to an insane hospital.

In the trial of the case, Governor Moody's proclamation asserted, Davenport's defense was that he is afflicted with "dementia precox" and the jury in finding him guilty held he was not insane.

Davenport, Moody's proclamation said, filed an appeal in the Court of Criminal Appeals and "with other prisoners saved from the Tom Green county jail while it was pending."

Incarcerating Davenport in an insane asylum would not be a sound public policy the jury found him not insane, the Governor's statement concluded.
